

Chate Asvanonda Joins Safe to Learn Advisory Council

Chate Asvanonda, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) for gTHIRA Systems, LLC., has joined the Safe to Learn Advisory Council, "Safe to Learn is a “think tank” comprised of subject matter experts, trusted advisors, critical thinkers and first responders that have hundreds of years of cumulated real world experiences in security, planning and the safety of educators, students and its campuses, facilities and schools."

Chate Asvanonda has dedicated his life to safety and security, "The opportunities to become a thread in a much larger fabric that will pro-long life; mitigate the impacts of catastrophic events; and help strengthen the posture of security was considered an honor to be part of the Safe to Learn Community."

Safe to Learn also features authors dedicated to school safety and the protection of our children. Their willingness to share personal lessons learned, have open discussions around difficult decisions allows us to learn from their lessons. Safe to Learn also features authors that inspire learning and literacy by sharing their skills with colorful stories of history; travel adventures; discovering the flavors of healthy cooking; as well as tales that may make you laugh or even cry.

Chate Asvanonda started his first career with the Los Angeles Police Department where he conducted high profiled investigations, cold case homicides; re-enactments of Police Officer Involved Shootings (OIS), Scientific Investigations (ballistics) and aided in the creation of the Departments Virtual Investigation Team. He is a court qualified gang expert and has testified as an “expert” in drugs and narcotics. He has been a POST (Peace Officer Standard Training) certified instructor for a decade, creating master lesson plans for the future in American law enforcement. Toward the end of his 23-year career with the L.A.P.D., he was the assistant OIC (Officer in Charge) of the Departments record management at Professional Standards Bureau; interacting with the Inspector General’s Office, Police Commission, City Officials and City Attorney’s Office.

Chate Asvanonda has been a student of many certified “Subject Matter Experts” (such as his fellow colleagues) and in return helped train over 2,500 police officers in crowd management, interview techniques, aggressor behavior, unusual occurrences and asymmetrical threats. He has worked with many experts and practitioners within the intelligence community, data collection specialist and an all source analysts.

Chate Asvanonda is currently the CEO of gTHIRA Systems, LLC, a small private software firm that created an autonomous intelligence tool for schools, campuses and colleges. The system was built upon guidelines and methodologies produced by the intelligence community in identifying threats and hazards to accurately determine risks to schools (soft targets) and critical infrastructures.
