

What is one step all principals can take to change the safety culture in their school that takes 15 hours a year?

Start by investing in the Safe to Learn Leadership and Safety Series and begin reading Principles for Principals – Leading the Way to School Safety by Ada Rosario Dolch.

Next plan to invest 30 minutes a month reading one of the 7 Safe to Learn Leadership & Safe Series eBooks. Plan to invest an additional 30 minutes each month exploring the Safe to Learn Web Site. Share what you have learned with teachers, staff and/or members of your school crisis team. Watch the award winning documentary, “Why Plan?”, Start a Round Table discussion, check out Let’s Talk topics and Let’s Read featured books.

Read our featured blogs articles such as School Shootings – What Have We Learned? or My Dream of a Nation Prepared or And How are the Children? Follow the updates in the Preparedness Directory; follow Phillip Martin’s Wander My World With Me. Learn what it’s like to paint murals with Ebola Survivors in Liberia (Africa) and the Mural Man.

Safe to Learn believes leadership drives school safety. Our world has changed substantially and school administrators (principals and assistant principals) must apply new, successful solutions to integrate safety and inspiration into every aspect of education.
